

Why Global Disease Biology?

GDB is the only major of its kind in the world!

Conduct your own research by completing your senior practicum for graduation!

Choose 25 units of upper division courses that shape your education uniquely to you, your interests, and your goals!

Academic, faculty, and peer advisors are ready to assist you every step of the way.

Network with world-renowned faculty from the College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences.

Learn about human, animal, plant, and environmental health and disease.

Our affiliated courses with Human and Veterinary Medicine, Plant Pathology, and Public Health, will prepare you for post-secondary education.

