

Why Global Disease Biology?

GDB is the only major of its kind in the world!

Conduct your own research by completing your senior practicum for graduation!

Network with world-renowned faculty from the College of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences.

Choose 25 units of upper division courses that shape your education uniquely to you, your interests, and your goals!

Learn about human, animal, plant, and environmental health and disease.

Academic, faculty, and peer advisors are ready to assist you every step of the way.

Our affiliated courses with Human and Veterinary Medicine, Plant Pathology, and Public Health, will prepare you for post-secondary education.

